very good to see all of you in so fabulous mood again. Colonel Becker is a real hunter fox, isn't he?!!!

amusement

Do not worry, due to present anglo american developments we come most probably to your delicious Becker hunt prey earlier than it would accord exactly to our agenda, eagles.

However, first of all only to flood our TT with the necessary Réunion spirit right from the beginning we look at what peter thought so far regarding such a convention before we begin checking our advanced TT daywork boxes.

His proposal (crime time table - executive summery) offered not much more but this:

“The people consent on mother earth could be found on a people main tribe chiefs convention (President Xi and his worldwide colleagues only. No diplomats, no state secretaries no deputies only about maybe 200 tribe heads plus 2 individuals as convention attendants. Of course they bring along their life partners and maybe a few personal assistants). On Réunion, Indian Ocean, as proposal. There is only one topic on the agenda dissolvment of christianity in the outlined way and it may take three weeks or half a year. But as soon as the consent is found, it is going to be executed immediate and precisely, i. e. preparations begin to meet the date of the then next full moon 4. Year 4 ideally (unfortunately year 3 is now passing by already again).”

This is not much more than an idea yet which, however, might inspire the addressed people chiefs as well as us. So let us keep this vision in mind ...

... when we start box checking expectable reactions on boxing day now, beginning with an expectable direct reaction would be pretended unawareness. However, in this case difficult to imagine. More easy to imagine their expectable indirect reactions to which we come later. However, on boxing day the cleric is going to be forced to step before the criminal court of public opinion trialling the pope, god's representative, himself. For clarification, the terms pope officio and church (shall) mean the same. The pope incorporates the church and the pope is no current individual person its the same permanent 1919 years old officio. This time the pope steps on the scene not only to offer deliberately and in public the pontifical opinion about the poor defendant. The pope's typical pseudo self presentation as green peace angel. The pope could not quickly enough shake Greta Thunberg's hand or pleaded for mercy in accordance with the whole international political and non-political celebrity for the jewish Rosenberg couple before their execution for alleged atomic espionage (how ever while/after genocide supervising (back then the Jew genocide) from his ivory tower). For ten years (1933-1943) the church did not bother even to pretend Jew support only until the US entered the war quite late and the pope set up his evil pretention face (Pius XII) and helped a few jewish refugees.

- Vatican

officio simply cannot ignore that we close/arrest its german sub-officios ((arch) dioceses cardinals and (arch) bishops). What can the church do? Protest or agree. They are going to let their australian CFC (chief finance cardinal) down, as announced, in the case of his final child abuse conviction. Even although the ordination never becomes invalid according to their code of canon law this cardinal is then excluded from the clerical status and degraded to a lay priest.

So the pope might still pretend complete unawareness of the german CIGoH holocaust terror and condemn it sharply when learning the facts not forgetting to sincerely apologize, his new expertise, and seek to appoint new german cardinals after the criminals have been removed.

John Paul II. invented this modern 3rd millennium defence strategy, practised thereafter not only in Chile, Bolivien, Irland where the pope began his visits with apologies. Children anywhere may be aware of the pope's deep sympathy.

Please read the historic pope's requests for forgiveness (wording) of 12th March 2000 and the comments of partisan intelligence officer Prof. Hans Küng (catholic theology, teaching licence withdrawn 1979) on the precedent pontifical apology of John Paul II, offered one day later on 13th March 2000 in a german broadcast interview!

(See hunt education material files The Pope's requests for forgiveness (wording) or Vergebungsbitten des Papstes (Wortlaut) and Küngs comments on pontifical apology precedent – original (german), or Küngs comments on pontifical apology precedent – google-translated.)

We know intelligence officer Hans Küng who reports true facts and dispassionate analysis out of the catholic hell of a church which is under high pressure a very valuable service. Our type of intelligence. non-professional credible intelligence. None of his reports or activities are secret, all true and unclassified.

The pope never ever admitted own mistakes and/or guilt nor apologized for anything before and until he called himself (Darth) John Paul (Vader) II in his proud age of 1.919 years (*81 as Pius I).

It was on 12th March 2000 when the church created this handsome precedent for round merry birth year A. D. 2.000 to do the lord honest honour and forward the right beliefs ...

the pope covered in this epic general absolution request pro officio not only current and future sin immunity (today especially for child abuse), he soak absolute forgiveness, his apology covered 2000 years of church existence and genesis. The almighty representative of god father in their heaven (or of Jesus seated right to him) did not address single profane events like middle age heretic processes, witch burnings and crusades or the dark chapter of hatred against Jews. He would not ask single victims for their forgiveness, he asked god for god's forgiveness and he would not ask in the name of the holy catholic church, he asked in favour of the church blaming only the few black limbs in the church's lap that disobey god and that contradict the creed and the holy gospel!

And with the same words, no wonder a miracle, Jesus' representative delivered ...

god's divine general immunity clauses (of faith and belief) in favour of the catholic church, god's (guilt and sin incapable) beloved bride that god keeps sanctifying on his way through time in his own blood, i. e., the blood of his principal, ... in his ...

pontifical mea culpa decree (JP II)

(zu deutsch (Schuld-Ein-)Geständnis, in english plea of guilty)

church (dead) language correspondent intelligence officer Hans Küng kindly served as interpreter and explained on the following day the abstract nature of this guilty plea.

So, 19 years ago already, intelligence officer Hans Küng offered his dispassionate translation of this abstract into a proper concrete guilty plea which admits and regrets in A. D. 2000 already most parts of peters guilt analysis today. However, back then before a church internal court of opinion which had withdrawn so far not only Küng's teaching licence. Church guilt an argument nearly exclusively among theologians.

Applicable law, canon.

On boxing day we open the global court of public opinion to trial the catholic church.
Legal background, international.

As result we can live with expectable direct vatican reactions.

More interesting than global religious implications are in the beginning the political consequences of our revolution. We are not reforming the existing system. We are replacing it by a complete new one. It is no secret that we are going to withdraw from EU NATO and UN treaties and (magna) cartas. Moreover from probably many bilateral disagreements. The question is how concerned treaty parties are probably going to react.

I would like to leave the agenda path here, postpone UN and NATO, and look at our EU disengagement next.

EU Wahnwitzfigurenkabinett (madame Tussaud's mad EU fun figure cabinet), 27 regularly photographed mp's in row, are going to count 25 only any more after Bre- and Grexit. I think we can eventually notice that Boris Johnson's ability to sense the UK's vast (constituency) majority for leaving the EU is not doubtable any longer. By 31st January 2020 Britain will be free.

Who are left? United Spain Italy atomic power France Luxembourg ... Besides that France is perhaps not going to use their atomic arsenal or to threaten with nuclear devastation, although they are very experienced in this, don't all of them have perhaps enough own problems? Don't they have own populations who they have to convince at least first before re-acting not only contradicting? How is Spain going to convince their catalonians? They better would have left them free earlier, I assume. They better release all catalonian politicians in their absurd custody now, I would recommend, only for all eventualities.

Are we a danger for our neighbour countries, withdrawing from disagreements and dealing with our own criminals only? I would say we are exactly the opposite of a danger. An act of more international military degression than our non-violent home coup as planned is hard to think up.

So most probably they are going to punish us with serious economic sanctions as presentable Maastricht contract penalty in their political small talk shows. Exclusion from exclusive markets. For example.

I think as result we can live with expectable direct EU reactions as well as with very unlikely direct neighbour re-actions. More interesting are possible developments in their own countries which, however, I would like to postpone in order to let you wait no longer, dear white head sea eagles, for your first maneuver review, which colonel Becker, excursion head eagle seeing eye, kindly left open to our appropriate prey appraisal here and now.

under consideration of their exceptional precedent experience might on boxing day be represented by the president of the United States of America himself, Mr. Donald Trump.

Quite personally touched are the (juristic person) USA by our UN and NATO withdraws.

Quite personally touched, however, is Donald Trump by his congress impeachment.

So he is probably going to twitter himself rather than to tell his state secretary who handled such matters for better established presidents that he does not want to hear anything about our russian espionage ...

... before his other concerns which are immediate US constitutional rather than foreign affairs are eased satisfactory.

So more difficult to predict are indirect US reactions in their beginning new year than to imagine direct statements on boxing day.

Is it in fact a dispute between republican and democrat partisans or rather one between the firm puritan lead establishment and their (unacceptable playboy and) non-established constitutional leader?

Difficult to predict. However, in the latter case, a good, more than ever fair, congress impeachment precedent (cabinet from waiting vice president downwards included). For obvious abuse of constitutional power and in protection of president Donald Trump the highest constitutional organ of the United States of America.

Canada and North America are white head sea eagle's natural territories. And gold eagles live in the Rocky Mountains. Why would american eagles worry about a more than doubtable danger for black forests north and east seas as long as they evidently have to worry (and better defend) their own territories and hunt grounds!

This sounds maybe like an oracle prediction the type of Delphi little more than vague. However, althodugh time of excitement is short - after russian christmas we are going to learn how the american people deal with their affairs - there is still enough time for Vielleichtrechnungen (perhaps rather than probability accounting) between boxing day and "merry birthday, patriarch!" which, however, with positive knowledge of boxing day's reactions turn then rather into probability calculi.

herewith checked. (redactional remark: readers of the module version which this episode is going to become please be aware that this is an exemplary army education handbook. The individual political circumstances when in use in other TTs an class rooms of our (german FLA) or any other occidental fatherland liberation army (FLA) need to be looked at then of course. They may look less perfect then than here and now!)

Since I do not see other than serious economical sanctions to be expected (even before maybe diplomatic and more than ever before military sanctions) as direct reaction on our international christmas present I would like to ask you now for your agreement with our first definite result here on day 1 (of 9) of our advance crash course:

Our pilot platoons of the field (for celibates) hunters, regiment 2, (Köln)Bonn report being prepared for colonel Becker's initial sette colline order set, aren't we soldiers?!

Chorus: we are major! and a single ... Let's call the colonel!

Very good ladies & gentlemen. Unfortunately before we are going to see colonel Becker again our status now is waiting for enough identical incoming reports from other barracks after right now while progressing in our advance think activities ...

but ..., excuse me please major, happy christmas is on tuesday. Today is friday. You don't want to tell us that you expect all of these enough incoming reports on monday do you?!

Ha ha, you are as eager to go as I am. Aren't you?! I have to admit that the early christmas date set was also a result of our enthusiasm and very optimistic. However, all other troops under our peer review began with module 1 when or colonel offered us his comments on our basic crash course results. So it should not take too long any more. And christmas is an ideal date place holder. There are many of similar inviting dates on holy three kings which is russian christmas or even most suitable on bad friday which they call good. White sunday the lord's and the bitch's ascensions and so on follow. And by the way traditional carnival to collect already the german nubbels is a serious option ...

So our status now is not going to last forever, and not here most of all! FLA eases (y)our understandable impatience a little bit. Travel office confirmed our flights to Bangkok on Thursday, 2nd January 2020 for the sake of optimal time use, soldiers!

Applause

Please enjoy your lunch apples and your weekend!

See you next week, comrades ...
